To whom it may concern,

We are pleased to announce the launch of Open Technology Solutions, a new business originating in Launceston that aims to provide quality information technology services and products. Formally known as Hesketh Development, Open Technology Solutions has been founded by two technology professionals, Robert Gardam and Joshua Hesketh.

The change in name reflects the expansion of the range of services on offer. We strive to provide quality services to all our clients, developing and deploying applications and IT management resources. With a strong emphasis on open standards and utilising open source, Open Technology Solutions is about delivering the very best of the technological world to you.

We will continue to offer and support the same services and products that were present in Hesketh Development, ensuring our current client base has the same solid support that they have enjoyed in the past.
